Louise, I believe they even excerpted a Jonathan Pie clip during your NPR interview a few weeks ago! I had no idea - what an insidious world, wow.

How funny that he forgot to mention his own role in Londongrad…

"Jonathan Pie" started out as an RT show in 2016. It seems he was perfectly happy taking Russian money to criticize the UK even when the nature of Putin's regime was apparent. He is no longer affiliated, to be clear. But neither has he expressed regret, to my knowledge.

I'm sure real UK experts like Catherine Belton, Oliver Bullough, anyone at TI or RUSI, countless others would've been available to do this… Strange choice by NYT.
